WANDA AND KAROL
POZNAŃSKI
ARCHIVE

The University Library in Toruń and the Kazimierz Wielki University Library in Bydgoszcz offer as many as almost four million items to their users. An important part of their stock includes some relatively rare items which are extremely valuable for academic teachers and researchers, or anyone studying the historical and cultural heritage of the region. A 21st-c. library should be a place where tradition meets modernity. Therefore, both institutions decided to digitise with the result that 28 000 items, not previously available electronically, can be found today through the Kujawsko-Pomorska Digital Library - KPDL (kpsc.umk.pl) website. In addition, plans were made to expand an open catalogue through 15 000 electronic bibliographic descriptions to give permanent and free access to a total of 43 000 digital documents and thus increase the libraries' potential value for users.

The complete list of resources digitised by the Kazimierz Wielki University (Uniwersytet Kazimierza Wielkiego / UKW) in Bydgoszcz includes items from its own collections, as well as documents and materials belonging to the Museum of Education in Bydgoszcz and the Nicolaus Copernicus Provincial Public Library in Toruń.

Wanda and Karol Poznański Archive (200 items): a collection of documents, correspondence, notes, photographs, press clippings and works of art donated to the UKW Museum of Diplomacy and the Polish Diaspora by Wanda Poznańska - the widow of the diplomat Karol Poznański. The legacy includes documents related primarily to the Polish diplomatic service in the interwar period and that of the Polish Government-in-Exile. Both Karol Poznański, Consul General of the Second Polish Republic in Paris (1927–1934) and in London (1934–1945), and his wife (a representative of the Polish Parliament) participated in key European events. These included the peace negotiations between Poland and Soviet Russia in Riga as well as the conferences in Lausanne and Genoa, evidence from which includes an offprint of the Peace Treaty of Riga, diplomatic credentials, appointments to consular offices, visas and diplomatic passports. Pre-war photographs documenting the diplomatic service (conferences, meetings, celebrations), as well as private life (balls, banquets) and the activity of Polish émigrés in Great Britain, Canada and the United States, are of great value accompanied by articles written by Wanda Poznańska for Radio Free Europe. The collection is a unique and extremely interesting resource for research on the history of Polish diplomacy and emigration.

Reminiscences from Bydgoszcz inhabitants (600 audio recordings and 400 photos): part of the archive built up by the UKW Library. The reminiscences and photographs recall the former appearance of the city, important historical, political and artistic events, outstanding personalities related to Bydgoszcz, its businesses and industrial plants, glimpses from everyday life, and its former multicultural character with national minorities, etc. The most extensive are 192 audio recordings from Wiesław Modrzyński in which he not only shares memories of his family history but spins an extremely colourful story, peppered with many details about the history of the city, the region, the Bielawy district and the house formerly occupied by the writer and theatre critic Adam Grzymała-Siedlecki (also mentioned by Elżbieta Kałamaja in her recorded story). The Bydgoszcz literary community and the city's cultural life are presented in more detail in stories told by Ewa, a daughter of the journalist Jan Piechocki and specialist in Polish language and literature, and by Stefan Pastuszewski, a writer, poet, journalist and local government official, a former member of the Polish Parliament and former deputy-mayor of the city. Their accounts contain information about many people and events related to literature, journalism and art in post-war Bydgoszcz. Some recorded accounts by Andrzej Zasada and Czesław Rządkosz are devoted to districts of Bydgoszcz, whereas that by Teodor Szczukowski (a tailor) is to the town of Fordon (which in 1973 became a Bydgoszcz district too), and by Aurelia Stankiewicz to Górzyskowo. Some colourful life stories of other prominent residents of Bydgoszcz are told by the canoeist and Olympian, Daniela Pilecka-Lewicka, while Prof. Maria Kuchcińska, a renowned educator, describes the UKW academic community in her account. Some hitherto unpublished photos complement the accounts.

thodox church in Sarajevo, Sarajevo, 1902

The family archive of Józef Szügyi Trajtler (1877-1923), head of the Railway Office in Bydgoszcz (200 items): documents, letters, photographs, manuscripts and a family album collected by Cecylia Trajtler née Bajewska (1879-1969), wife of Józef, an engineer of Hungarian descent and a specialist in railway construction. Encouraged by his wife, Józef Trajtler moved to Poland in 1920. He organized railway services in Bydgoszcz, later preventing the removal of its equipment and rolling stock by the Germans. The archive comprises documents ('patents of nobility', passports, travel permits), memories (of Józef Trajtler from his journey to Poland, including a list of returning Polish émigrés, and the diaries of his daughter, Izabella Dębicka, written in her childhood in Konjic), postcards, e.g. from Bydgoszcz and the surrounding area, as well as photographs. The latter resource is unique and especially valuable. It presents members of Cecylia and Józef Trajtler's family including Erazm Borącz (1859-1928) who was a recognized art collector; the Bajewski's; the Boussifat de Mericourt's; the Komlóssy's, e.g. Ferenc (1817-1892) who was a court painter of the Austro-Hungarian Empire; the Prottung's, e.g. Fryderyka Melania (1847-1912) who ran a respected salon in Lvov; and the Trajtlers themselves, e.g. Józef's father, Karol (1847-1929) who was an outstanding teacher. The truly unique items in the collection are an album with photographs of Józef Trajtler at railway construction sites in Bosnia and Herzegovina, and Grafostatica - notes from Antal Khendri's lectures at the Budapest University of Technology. The documents were made available by Prof. Halina Stasiak, the grand-daughter of Józef Trajtler, a specialist in German language and literature, and a translator of Günter Grass's prose.

UKW's special collection (500 documents): early printed material and graphic prints from the collection of the UKW Library. In terms of volume, the largest is over 100 items bound together from the 18th century, including official published materials, copies of speeches delivered in the Sejm/Parliament, appeals, drafts, court documents and lists. The volume begins with Dekreta w sprawie J. O. Xiążęcia Jmci Czartoryskiego Generała Ziem Podolskich, z urodzonym Ryxem Starostą Piaseczyńskim y innemi w Sądach Marszałkowskich Koronnych Kryminalnych 1785 roku zapadłe (Decrees passed by crown courts in 1785 resolving a criminal case filed by Prince Adam Czartoryski against Franciszek Ryx, Starost of Podolia and other persons). Further into the volume one might find such interesting documents as Opisanie ułożenia Akademii przez J. O. Xcia Jmosci Wirtembergskiego w Sztuttgartzie (Information on the functioning of Hohe Karlschule in Stuttgart founded by Karl Eugen, Duke of Wurtemberg); Rachunek Wiele Srebro w Piastrach z Hollandyi sprowadzone tu w Warszawie kosztować będzie (A receipt in piastres for silver from Holland with its calculated Warsaw value); and Registr: Mssyonarzow zmarłych przy końcu Roku 1790. i w biegu Roku 1791 (Register of missionaries who had died by the end of 1790 and in the course of 1791).

What deserves special attention from among the iconographic items are 12 lithographs included in the Album von Stettin und Umgebung, printed by the Waldow publishing house in 1857. The photographer and lithographer Julius Gottheil (1810-1868) captured views of Szczecin and its surroundings: ships, vehicles, squares, hotels, a restaurant and a summer theatre.

OFFICIAL SCHOOL INSPECTION REPORTS FROM THE 19TH AND 20TH C.

Official reports from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries (3900 items): a portion of the huge collection of over 40,000 items belonging to the Nicolaus Copernicus Library in Toruń, documenting life in the German Empire and Austria-Hungary, as well (in smaller numbers) on the borders of these empires, e.g. in today's Denmark or France. Reports covering today's northern Poland have been digitised. The earliest are from the academic gymnasia ('grammar') schools in Braniewo (1825) and Toruń (1826) as well as Bydgoszcz and Chojnice (1828). The most recent printed material is from the 1930s. The early published material mainly contains information about school activities, lists of teachers, subjects taught, information about students, reading lists, texts of teachers' 'dissertations' (these were occasionally printed separately) e.g. that of the distinguished head of the gymnasium in Braniewo, Maria Gideon Gerlach (1789-1845), a Doctor of Philosophy, from Wrocław. Later reports included chronicles, lists of staff members, information about the students - religion, previous schools, e.g. community education, private tutoring, where the students came from, with whom they lived (parents, family, foreigners), required reading, information about the library, educational matters, hygiene issues, the activities of specific clubs and associations, information on external cooperation, charities, and student dormitories.
